

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Friends,

Welcome back to OMSI for our 2022 Gala! We're thrilled and grateful for the opportunity to once again host you at the museum in a celebration of science education.

Your support of OMSI has enabled us to grow and deepen our impact during a time when the need for science literacy has reached new peaks and urgency. I am inspired every day by the generosity of our supporters, the excitement to learn among those we serve, and the resilience of our staff and volunteers. Together we make a real, tangible difference in our communities.

Over the past year, OMSI has relaunched many of our popular in-person programs while continuing to deliver and innovate our digital offerings. We are committed to dismantling barriers to high-quality science education for diverse audiences across the Pacific Northwest through culturally responsive programming with our partners. OMSI is uniquely positioned to bring urban and rural communities together to create solutions that address our collective challenges and improve long-term outcomes for all — we could not do this without you.

I am honored to serve as OMSI's president, and I am humbled as I share my heartfelt gratitude to all of you for supporting the OMSI Gala this year. Thank you for coming together to reaffirm our long standing commitment to inspiring informed action through science education for curious learners across the region.

With gratitude,

Erin Graham
OMSI President and CEO

FROM OUR PRESENTING SPONSORS

Thank you for joining us in celebrating OMSI's 2022 Renaissance Gala and the opportunity it provides to uplift science education. Vernier Software & Technology is proud to have been a Presenting Sponsor of the OMSI Gala for many years, and is delighted to support the Gala in its return to the in-person format this year that we all enjoy. We believe that curious minds can take informed action that transforms the world for the better, and OMSI plays a critical role in educating and inspiring people of all ages.

Innovation carries us all forward. Thanks to advancements in medicine and technology, we are able to safely gather together this evening. And with OMSI's transformative learning experiences — from exhibits about heat inequality in Portland, to sold out summer classes on robotics — people across the Pacific Northwest have opportunities to become part of solutions to the most pressing issues of the 21st century. The current featured exhibit, The World of Leonardo da Vinci, showcases the power of innovation by exploring the works and world of the Renaissance thinker. Looking ahead, OMSI will build on digital and hybrid learning models to help reduce geographical and cultural barriers to its services while continuing to bring back popular in-person programs and enhancing the museum experiences that spark inquisitiveness and joy.

We hope you will join us in raising your paddles to help support OMSI's impactful work by building an informed and more equitable future.

OMSI GALA

"I remember as a little boy my parents Arlene and Harold took me to OMSI when it was located in Washington Park. I was always fascinated by the pendulum! When it relocated to the eastside and became a world class museum, I took my older daughters and now my little boys are experiencing the same sense of wonder I felt over 60 years ago.

Congratulations OMSI for being an inspiration to generations of Oregonians and visitors from afar."
